VISIT POLE IN AIRSHIP

DR. FIELDING OF SAN ANTONIO GIVES PLANS.

Proposes to Avoid Troubles of Peary and Cook—To Make Fast Time and Stay Will be Brief.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 13.—Dr. Frederick J. Fielding, an aviator of this city, who recently announced plans to fly to the North Pole in a dirigible balloon, today made known his project in detail and declared he desired and expected a party to accompany him.

Dr. Fielding discussed the Peary-Cook controversy, saying Cook's data apparently was insufficient and public scoffs at his discoveries on account of the squabble, and he believed the balloon trip will settle the questions and satisfy the public.

Dr. Fielding proposes to construct a balloon to hold 200,000 cubic feet of gas and carry 6,000 pounds of burden. The craft will be cigar-shaped with planes on the sides, which will be operated in ascent and descent. A 250 horse power engine of eight cylinders will drive the craft through the air 100 miles per hour, and Fielding expects to make the trip to the Pole and return in two days and nights.

"The Servant in the House"

One of the potent appeals of "The Servant in the House," which will be seen here Saturday evening, the 15th, is its remarkable realism. Audiences lose themselves in the unfolding of the beautiful story and awake to the realities of life at the end of the play with a sigh of regret. Commenting on this fact, Harper's Weekly says: "Here is a drama so great, so compelling, so reverent, so akin to all the beautiful and permanent things of life that is more than a play, more than a novel, more than a mere book. It is a page from life itself, revealing the brotherhood of man as a real breathing thing; showing how the impossible has become possible. According to the critics: 'Not in a lifetime has such a wonderful play been created.'"

At the Lyric.

"Cherless" Briscoe has a dandy comedy-juggling act, that keeps things lively all the time. His tricks are all good in themselves and he gets them off in an inimitable comical way that's one big laugh. Repass & Wells who bill themselves as "Those Rahr! Rahr! Boys" are offering a crackerjack singing and talking sketch. They have all new and bright jokes and their singing is top-notch. The closing song, "Up, Up in an Aeroplane" is a winner, and the others are all to the good. The entire bill is right up to now and the new pictures and songs each day add to its attractiveness. The vaudeville numbers are for today and tomorrow only.

Caddo Mills National Bank Officers.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Caddo Mills the following directors were elected: Hugh Minton, H. Wash Williams, Henry W. Williams, George S. Perkins, W. E. Johnson, W. A. Smith, G. F. Morgan, John Graham, L. T. Johnson, C. W. Welsh, M. L. Johnson, George W. Vancleave. The following officers were elected: Geo. W. Vancleave, president; Dr. C. W. Welsh, vice president; L. T. Johnson, cashier; M. L. Johnson, teller. The bank opened for business Wednesday, and its capital stock is $25,000.

At the King.

The drama, "Polly of the Circus," at the opera house last night was greeted by the largest house of the season, every seat being taken. The company is composed of good actors and they met the approval of the audience. Miss Fay Wallace, as Polly, was a charming rendition. In the third act there was a real circus on the stage with animals, acrobats and all the paraphernalia of a real show. Altogether "Polly of the Circus" was a most decided hit with Greenville theatergoers.

To the Planters.

We have a shipment of Simkins' prolific cotton seed, raised in the best cotton section of North Carolina. Samples and literature for your inspection at French & Moore's drug store. We buy your unopened bolls at $1.50 to $2.50 per hundred—Mundy & Son, ginners.

DISTRICT COURT.

One Verdict Rendered and Another Case Taken Up.

Judge C. L. Elder as presiding judge of the district court, is dispatching business in fine shape.

Yesterday the jury in the case of J. W. Sizemore vs. M. K. & T. road was charged and sent out about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 4:45 last evening came in with a verdict of $5,000 for the plaintiff.

The case of Venters vs. M. K. & T. road was called and both sides announced ready, and the selecting of a jury was begun. Yates & Simpson represent the plaintiff and Templeton, Craddock, Crosby & Dismore appear for the defendant.

STEAMER SUNK, LIVES LOST

OF THIRTY-ONE MEN ONLY TWO HAVE BEEN RESCUED.

One of the Engineers Reports That There Were Only Five Left.

Marshfield, Mass., Jan. 13.—Of thirty-one men on the ill-fated steamer "Carolina," which struck Goos Bay yesterday and was practically wrecked, two were rescued today.

Harry Ketzell, first assistant engineer, was picked up unconscious in the breakers, and Second Assistant Engineer Robinson was washed ashore.

Robinson said that when he was washed off the vessel only five persons remained. On account of the rough sea it is probable they were lost.

Is Seriously Ill.

Tom Vausickie left yesterday for Abilene, called there by the critical illness of his 14-year-old son, Mark Short, who moved there from Caddo Mills about six weeks ago. Mr. Short was injured two weeks ago by being kicked in the head by a mule and has been unable to speak since, although six operations have been performed on him.

LAMPHERE'S CONFESSION

HELPED MRS. GUNNESS IN DISPOSING OF THREE BODIES.

Lamphere Thought He Had Not Been Paid Enough so Chloroformed the Family.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 13.—Ray Lamphere, according to the Post Dispatch, before he died in the Indiana penitentiary, left a confession which it published today.

Lamphere says he aided Mrs. Gunness in disposing of three bodies. Thinking he had not received enough money he retained one slight and chloroformed Mrs. Gunness, her three children and Jennie Olson. He only secured sixty to seventy dollars. A candle they used, he believed, caused the fire, which burned them to death the same night.

Booming Woodcraft.

Will A. Harris, Special Deputy W. O. W., who is conducting the big Wood County Class Initiation Campaign which ends Feb. 18 at Winnebago with a big program and banquet, was in this city yesterday enroute to Albia, where he will tonight install officers for that camp. He reports that the campaign is progressing nicely and expects the largest crowd in Winnebago that ever gathered in that part of the state.
